Leadership journeys

What was my path to becoming LIANZA President?

What was my path to being part of the leadership team at Auckland Libraries?

Who I am and where I came from is what makes me the sort of leader I am now

Because family/whanau is a keystone of my support...

Because I want everyone to benefit and have the opportunities education and libraries gave me

Because there is inequality in Aotearoa and the world

Because I could see that things could be improved and I wanted to influence how things were done

Because access to information can reduce inequality in Aotearoa

Because libraries can transform lives

Because I can help grow my own community

Mōhiotanga – skills, experience, know how Manaakitanga – service delivery, having a genuine concern for the welfare and progression of those who follow

Rangatiratānga – self- determination - according to our own values and worldview, trailblazing across libraries, museums and archives, displaying leadership and being exemplars

Amorangitānga – inspiring and motivating people to achieve

You are awesome!

Look at your own strengths and how these can support your leadership style

Everyone is both fabulous and flawed

Accept failure in self and others and learn from it

Reflection

Are we sometimes deluding ourselves?

Are we delivering on the potential of libraries to transform lives?

Or just telling a great story?

Self awareness

- Not just Passion and Advocacy
- Planning and Action
- Collaboration
- Self awareness
- Feedback
