

Name: Sarah Dupont

Position: Aboriginal Engagement Librarian

Institution: Xwi7xwa Library and the Irving K. Barber Learning Centre, University of British Columbia, Vancouver, Canada

Métis

She is the convenor of the First Nations Interest Group of the British Columbia Library Association and serves as co-Chair of the Indigenous Knowledge Standing Committee of the Council of Prairie and Pacific University Libraries. As the Program Manager for the Indigitization project (Indigitization.ca). Sarah supports Indigenous organizations with grant-funded projects for cultural heritage media management. As a liaison librarian, Sarah works with faculty and students and supports the collection development of the Xwi7xwa Library, Canada's only dedicated branch for Indigenous collections at a University Library.